

DNR RECEIVES MORE THAN 100 SAG APPLICANTS TOTALING OVER $4 MILLION

The DNR's Remediation and Redevelopment Program has received more than 100 applications for the Brownfields Site Assessment Grant (SAG) Program. Applicants applied for approximately $4.4 million in funding for this round of grants; however, only $1.7 million is available in this fiscal year (2003-2004). An additional $1.7 million will also be available next fiscal year.

This is the fifth round of SAG grants, which was created in 1999 by the State Legislature based upon recommendations from the Brownfields Study Group. The funding has helped communities begin investigation and cleanup at 554 acres in 84 communities across the state since 2000. These activities included more than 210 site assessments and investigations, the removal of 162 underground storage tanks and the demolition of nearly 200 structures and buildings.

Below is a list of applicants for the SAG grants. The DNR receive 25 applications for large grants, totaling $2.1 million in funding, and 80 small grant applications totaling $2.3 million in funding.
